Consequently, we expect you to handle unexpected situations with creativity and to self-reflect upon your experiences accordingly. Therefore, we ask you to perform certain written tasks as an integral part of the application procedure.

✓ Language Requirements

The studies at our faculty are international. Therefore, we require a proof of your oral and written fluency in English so you can participate in our English seminars. You may have acquired this knowledge through a longer stay in an English speaking country or through English courses.

✓ Practical Experience

Our studies are based on a high standard of practical experience, one of the reasons why we expect you to have already gained solid commercial experience. You may have acquired this by professional training, your own entrepreneurial experience or internships. The crucial factor for us is not only the duration of your experience, but far more your insight into commercial and economic operations.
